AF The editor of the Providence Tribune says that if our article in regard to the Maine Law did not manifest a revoluthosary spirit, then he cannot correctly construe or understand the English language he now assumes a proper ground, and gives the true reason for his mistake. He further says that he does not know that the M tine Law is openly violated in the city of Providence, or that it has been productive of great mischief and bitter feelings which will exist long after the Maine Law has h-come a dead letter. In reply, we have only to say that the editor must have entombed himself from the world for the post year or two, and that he cannot know what is taking place around him any more than he would know what was going on on this namdane sphere, if he was an inhabitant of the Moon. The General Assembly may make the Maine Law still more stringent. if they please, but it cannot be enforced; no law can be executed when public opinion to a considerable extent, is apposed to it.-It is useless to argue upon this matter, because the experience of every day, and a knowledge of human nature, irresistably convince those, who are not wilfully blind, of the truth of our assertion.

3.J'Mr. L. P. Lincoln, of Boston, a reto need Pioneer Irom Kansas, and who is about organizing a party of emigrants to that Territory, addressed the citizens of Semport, at the State House, Tuesday erening, on the resources, climate, advantaconstant well as the prospects and inducein ans to settlers, in that region of our extensive and wonderful country. The address was very conversational and familiar and illustrated by a very large pondent outline map, by the use of which all present could start with the Lecturer from any givon point and travel to the settlement of Lawrence town in Kansas, and recieve full and minute information of all the expences of the route and of the time occupied in going. He paused, from time to time, in order to allow any one in the audience to propound such questions as were desirable, and to elicit any information upon points o interest to any one or all present. Although there was notice had been very limited, there was quite a respectable audience, including come ladies, and all declared at the close that they had been exceedingly interest but simply to apread information in regard to the subject, he being unxious to see the settlement in Kansas augmented by New England man, as tending more than any is her menns, to the establishment and main tenance there of Preedom, virtue, morality p ditical honosty and religion. Mr. L. will by in this city and address our citizens once more and finally, on Saturday eveming next, the 24th inst., at half past 7 o'cinck, when it is to be hoped that he may lave a full attendance of ladies and gentlemen who may wish to pass a pleasant hour in gathering useful information concerning can of the most interesting positions of our Admission to the Lecture will be free, and a collection at the close will he taken to detray Mr. L.'s expenses, which is all the remuneration he desires.

There is no more disgusting animal in a community than an ignorant, unprincipied and impudent pettifogger, whose solo bject is to fleece people of their money, by dragging them into law, regardless of jusice and right. There is one consolation however,-such animals soon find their 1-v. l, and the natural instinct of decency viil soon eradicate all such animals from the atmosphere which they have polluted.

PROFITABLE OFFICE.-It is not probable that the keepers of the prisons in Martha's A meyard will need any assistance at prescat. For the year ending Nov. 1864, the ices for turnkey and board at the County sail in Edgartown, amounted to one notthe and THERTY CENTS, there having been but one person sont there during that year. The population of the vineyard is 4540. In Edgartown there are 1990; Chilmark 757 and Tisbury 1803. The inhabitants of the island are almost exclusively native-born Americans, there being only about 35 foreigners.

—One of the Texan papers remarks that " I the recent sitting at the Court at San Assonio, thirteen gentlemen were assigned theres in the publicantiary,"

In the Supreme Court at Washington on Monday, Judge Curtis delivered the opinion of the Court in the case, James Stevens against Royal Gladding and others. The decision of the Circuit Court in this district is reversed, a perpetual injunction granted against the defendants, and further proceedings ordered. The suit relates to the Map of Rhode Island, of which Stevens held a copyright, for infringement of which he claims damages. It has been by no means a master of that. It would long pending, and finally terminates in his favor. Samuel Ames, Esq., argued the tion, even among members or Congress, case in behalf of the detendants at the present term. A written argument was submitted to the Court by the plaintiff.-Prov.

The only sister of Rogers, the poet, died on the 29th of January, in the 83d year of her age. The London News says: "Miss Rogers had all her brother's taste for art and literature. Her house in Hanever terrace was elegantly filled with choice examples of art from Giotto to Stothard, bought as much by her own good sense as by her brother's example and assistance. Some of her best pictures she is understood to have left to the National Gallery."

Dorothy Wordsworth, the only sister of William Wordsworth, the poet, died at Rydal Mount, in Westmoreland, on the 25th of January, in her 84th year. She was born on Christmas day, 1771, and during life was the constant and chosen associate of her illustrious brother.

On New Year's day, as a New York merchant entered his house, he was met by his wife, who threw around his neck a gold chain. "There, hubby," exclaimed his wife, "is a New Year's gift for you!" "Oh, yes," rejoined the husband, with great coolness, "I paid the bill for it about an hour ago," "You did," exclaimed the lady with equal indifference, "why I told the jeweller to let it go on the July bill."

IDF Clark Stanton, a young English sculptor at Florence, returning to his studio one day, found his clay model of a statue in a pile of ruins on the floor. Though strongly aupported by an iron framework forming the "bony system" of the body, it had fallen from the prodestal, dushing itself into hopeless and graceless confusion. It had been the work of fourteen months, and as the statue was to be bronze and not marble, his labor would have been done on the delivery of the cast to the gentleman who had ordered it. He had preferred finishing the model in the clay to finishing it in the plaster, as is usually done, so that the loss of time and labor is still more considerable. The statue was a figure of Hebe, and was the artists first attempt at the size of life .--Unless a man possesses unusual energy such a disappointment at the ontest is enough to hardle about ICF The business of presenting plate seems rather likely to run itself into the ground at last. If it has not already reached the ridiculous point which will work its own curse, it is fast verging to it, and some "voung converts" in Massachusetts have aucceeded in making it look about as foelish as it can. A class of these simpletons have recently presented a silver pitcher to the elergyman who converted them-in testimony of the service thus rendered-Now it may be all well enough to give silver to their clergymen, but it seems to us that it savors considerably of the ridiculous and rather too near the profess to give such a reason for a presentation of this sort. If any of the "converts" should chance to "fall from grace," some of them might begrudge the silver, and possibly be for getting it back .- New London Chron.

Mose Stone of WAR .- The National Intelligencer says it has been informed, that a wealthy gentleman of New York, who made a large purchase of United States muskets, has established a factory, and is engaged in altering them into rifles, by grooving the barrels and changing the breech and lock, so as to allow the arm to be leaded at the breech and with such alteration the experiment has proved the arm to be equal to the Minie rifle. The Intelligencer learns, too, that many of the muskers thus aftered at a cost of less than two dollars, have been sold at from fifteen to twenty dollars each, the yender realizing a large profit by the alteration and sale.

SOLID MEX OF BOSTON .- Police Station No. I has some pretty heavy men to take care of the rogues. There are thirty-four officers directly connected with this Station the aggregate weight of nine of whore is over a ton. These persons weigh respetively as follows: Scott, 236, Richardson, 235 ; All n, 232 ; Harris, 228 ; Smith, 222 Folson, 220; Hill, 218, Morse, 208, and Haskell, 206 pounds. Twenty of the officers will average over two hundred pounds weight cach,

The New Minister to Spain .- Augustus Cæsar Dudge, Senstor from lows, has been nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate, as Minister to Spain, vice Soule, rosigned, and Breckenridge, declined. The appointment is an unfit one in every point of view. Mr. Dodge has not the first idea about diplomacy; is a man of little capacity and less information; knows no language but the English and is have been difficult to make a worse salecwho seem to get all the official prizes under our "Democratic" Administration. The appointment of Mr. Dodge, is, indeed, a mero political job; a "sop" from the President to make amends for the slap he has received from the People, for his vote in fawor of the Nebraska Iniquity. Thus it is that Federal patronage, as dispensed by "democratic" bands, is relied upon to carry obnoxious measures through Congress, and to reward those plant Senators and Representative who sell their constituents and betray their country, at the behest of the Executive and for the sake of office.-Shame upon both parties-President and Senator-to this foul bargain !- Milwankee Sentinel.

SHORT CREDITS .- The New York papers state that a movement has been quade by the wholesale jobbers of that city to reduce the term of credit to six and eight months, the notes given not being subject to renewal.-It is urged that dealers generally would consult their own permanent interests by resolving on the shorter credit without renewnls, and those who do this business only will have the advantage over those who give the longer credits. A large business of this extended credit need not be envied. It requires a larger rate of profit on all the buisness transacted to make that particular kind at all safe. The best customers, therefere, are made to contribute for the risk attending extended credit to other customers. The chief obstacle in the way of bringing the new custom into general use is the difficulty of securing uniformity upon the part not only of the jobbers of New York, but those of other cities.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT ABOARD.—The following articlo, upon the railroad bill now before our General Assembly, is from the Pull River Monitor, and shows what view is taken of it by intelligent observers abroad. The last paragraph is worth of especial consideration:

"The Railroad bill passed the House on Tuesday by a decided vote. It has yet to pass the Senate, who we hope will have the good sense to defeat it, as it will have a deleterious effect upon the railroad interest in that State. The policy of fostering are honored which seems to have been specially designed to cripple corporations, the stock of which are all below par, with every probability of remaining so. The inevitable result of the movement against these corporations will prevent further investments and drive capital into neighbor ing States."

RACHEL, the great French actress, has actually concluded an engagement to visit this country. She contracts for 200 represcutations, for which she is to be paid $1200. The following singular provisions are inserted in the agreement, as reported by a Paris letter writer :

Six hundred thousand francs will be deposited at her banker's in Paris before her departure, which, in case of her being shipwrecked, reverts to her family. But if M'île Rachel dies during the course of the two hundred representations, since she literally belongs hody and soul to the entrepreneurs, they have the right to expose her corpse from city to city to whoever may desire to see it. And this property need not be rendered until it shall have procured the NF A Stump Speech, one of the best ever made, was pronounced by Lan Russell, a condidate for the office of Auditor in the State of Mississippi. Being called upon one day by a crowd, he responded as follows:

Fellow citizens, you have called on me for a few remarks. I have none to make. I have no prepared speech. Indeed, I am no spooker. I do not desire to be a speaker. Lonly want to be an Auditor.

Simplicity.-A gentleman from a neighboring town informs us of an amusing instance of simplicity in his family. He had told his help not to allow one of his rooms to become too warm. Some time after it was found that the temperature of the room was not only warm but hot, and the thermometer which usually hang on the wall
